

Prohibition of one company controlling both a TV station and a newspaper has proved beneficial to the public and should not, under any circumstances, be revoked. Considering the numerous amounts of companies legally in violation of that law, to lift the ban would not only be detrimental towards the variety of biases of information dispersed among the people, but wholly unnecessary even for your purposes.